ISLAY COTTAGES

Dundonald

Situated in the heart of Bowmore, 200 metres from the Distillery, Dundonald is a convenient and very comfortable house. It has a large lounge, a large kitchen dining area, utility room and a double and twin room upstairs.

There is a garden to the rear which backs onto Lochindaal with magnificent views over to Jura and beyond.

Kilchoman House

Kilchoman is a wonderful property from 200 years ago, set in 37 acres of sheltered farm and hill land.

It offers all the comforts of modern living for up to 12 guests. Included are a large south facing sitting room, a formal dining room for up to 18 guests, large kitchen with back areas and six luxury bedrooms two of which are four posters.

There is plenty space to roam with both Machir Bay and Kilchoman Distillery only five minutes away. The area is abound with birds and other wildlife.

Kilchoman Cottages

Kilchoman Cottages stand above the house beneath the church and comprise of four two-bedroom cottages and a separate three bedroom. On the lower level, patio doors open towards seating and a BBQ area together with lovely views of the hills and the burn. There is a large grassed area to play or relax and it is secure and safe for families.

The cottages named after the beaches of Islay's west coast have central heating throughout and open fires or stoves, for the odd chilly night.
